Solutions :-

Sol.1.(a) utmost

'Utmost' means extreme. The given sentence states that due to the fragility of the manuscript, the historian handled it with extreme care. Hence, 'utmost' is the most appropriate answer.

Sol.2.(a) into

'Into' is a fixed preposition used with the verb 'delve'. Hence, 'into' is the most appropriate answer.

Sol.3.(b) less

'Less' is the comparative form of 'little' and is used here to compare the success of the second attempt with the first. The sentence indicates a reduced level of success in the second attempt. Hence, 'less' is the most appropriate answer.

Sol.4.(c) or

'Either...or' is a fixed conjunction pair. Hence, 'or' is the most appropriate answer.

Sol.5.(c) whose

'Whose' is a relative adjective used to refer to people or things, indicating possession. In this sentence, the lectures belong to the professor, so 'whose' correctly shows this relationship. Hence, 'whose' is the most appropriate answer.

Sol.6.(c) enervate

'Enervate' means to cause (someone) to feel drained of energy or vitality. The given sentence states that the incessant debate began to enervate the enthusiasm of even the most dedicated participants. Hence, 'enervate' is the most appropriate answer.

Sol.7.(b) was

This sentence is an example of inversion for emphasis, where the auxiliary verb precedes the subject. The subject "machinery" is singular, so the verb must also be singular. Hence, "was" is the most appropriate answer.

Sol.8.(b) more

The word "more" is used here to emphasize that his explanation went beyond merely being confusing, suggesting it was an even greater degree of disorganization and lack of clarity. Hence, "more" is the most appropriate answer.

Sol.9.(b) foment

The word "foment" means to instigate or stir up (an undesirable or violent sentiment or course of action), which perfectly fits the context of stirring up division. Hence, "foment" is the most appropriate answer.

Sol.10.(b) do we have

When a sentence begins with a negative adverbial phrase (like 'hardly ever', 'scarcely', 'never', 'seldom', 'rarely'), inversion of the subject and auxiliary verb is required for emphasis. Therefore, 'do we have' is the most appropriate answer.

Sol.11.(c) zealotry

'Zealotry' means extreme devotion. The given sentence states that the detective's unwavering commitment to justice often led him to pursue cases with unbridled zealotry. Hence, 'zealotry' is the most appropriate answer.

Sol.12.(c) abrade

'Abrade' means to scrape or wear away by friction or erosion. The given sentence states that the constant dripping of water began to abrade the stone, eroding it slowly over centuries. Hence, 'abrade' is the most appropriate answer.

Sol.13.(a) fewer

'Fewer' is a comparative degree used with plural countable nouns. Similarly, in the given sentence, 'challenges' is a plural countable noun. Hence, 'fewer' is the most appropriate answer.

Sol.14.(c) however

'However' is an adverb used to introduce a statement that contrasts with or contradicts something that has been said previously. Here, it presents a contrast between the promise of streamlined operations and complex implementation. Hence, 'however' is the most appropriate answer.

Sol.15.(a) sustained

'Sustained' means to suffer (something unpleasant, especially an injury, a defeat, or a loss). The given sentence states that the city would have sustained significant damage from the tsunami if not for the early warning system. Hence, 'sustained' is the most appropriate answer.

Sol.16.(d) motivates

In the given sentence, 'the constant criticism' is a singular subject that will take 'motivates' as a singular verb. Hence, 'motivates' is the most appropriate answer.

Sol.17.(a) at

'At' is a fixed preposition used with 'adept'. Hence, 'at' is the most appropriate answer.

Sol.18.(d) arrived

If two actions took place in the past then the 1st action must be in the Past perfect tense (Had + V₃) and the 2nd action must be in the Simple Past tense (V₂). In the given sentence, 'evacuation' is the 1st action & 'arrival' is the 2nd action. Hence, 'arrived (V₂)' is the most appropriate answer.

Sol.19.(b) which

"Which" is a relative pronoun used to introduce a non-restrictive clause that refers to things or animals. In this case, "which" refers back to "proposals." Hence, "which" is the most appropriate answer.

Sol.20.(c) had

If a sentence starts with a negative word (hardly / barely / scarcely / rarely / no sooner / not only / never / little), the correct grammatical structure is "Negative word + Helping verb + Subject + Main Verb". The sentence describes an action completed before another past action, so it requires Past Perfect Tense (had + V₃). Hence, "had" is the most appropriate answer.

Sol.21.(a) Contradictory

The word "contradictory" means opposite or inconsistent with something else. The sentence suggests that the scientist's conclusions did not agree with the data in the report. Hence, "Contradictory" is the most appropriate answer.

Sol.22.(c) than

"No sooner-than" is the fixed conjunction pair. Hence, 'than' is the most appropriate answer.

Sol.23.(a) In spite of

"In spite of" is a prepositional phrase meaning "despite" or "regardless of." It correctly conveys a contrast between being warned and proceeding with the action. Hence, "In spite of" is the most appropriate answer.

Sol.24.(c) be

The given sentence uses the subjunctive mood after verbs like recommendation, demand, suggest, etc. The subjunctive mood requires the base form of the verb. Hence, "be" is the most appropriate answer.

Sol.25.(d) do away with

The phrasal verb 'do away with' means to get rid of something. The given sentence states that the new manager promised to get rid of the old, inefficient procedures and replace them with more modern methods. Hence, 'do away with' is the most appropriate answer.

Sol.26.(b) of

'Of' means relating to something. The given sentence talks about implications related to the proposed reforms. Hence, 'of' is the most appropriate answer.

Sol.27.(c) detrimental

'Entirely' is an adverb which modifies an adjective coming after it. 'Detrimental' is an adjective which takes the preposition 'to' after it. Hence, 'detrimental' is the most appropriate answer.

Sol.28.(b) did they

The given sentence is an example of inversion, which often occurs with "not until" at the beginning of a sentence. The auxiliary verb (did) comes before the subject (they). Hence, "did they" is the most appropriate answer.

Sol.29.(c) whose

"Whose" is a possessive pronoun that refers to the scientist's discovery. Hence, "whose" is the most appropriate answer.

Sol.30.(c) well-thought-out

The collocation "well-thought-out" means carefully considered or planned in detail before being implemented. Hence, option c is the most appropriate answer.

Sol.31.(b) which

The relative pronoun "which" is used to add non-defining information about the proposal. Hence, "which" is the most appropriate answer.

Sol.32.(b) would have caught

The given sentence is an example of the third conditional sentence and "had + V_3 ... would have + V_3 " is the correct grammatical structure for it. Hence, 'would have caught (V_3)' is the most appropriate answer.

Sol.33.(d) impede

'Impede' means to interfere with the activity or progress of something. The given sentence states that bureaucratic inefficiencies continued to impede the project's progress despite ample resources being allocated. Hence, 'impede' is the most appropriate answer.

Sol.34.(c) to

'To' is a fixed preposition used after the word 'proportional'. Hence, 'to' is the most appropriate answer.

Sol.35.(a) came up with

The phrasal verb "came up with" means to think of or produce an idea, plan, or solution. In the given sentence, the context suggests that after a long discussion, the people involved were able to think of or suggest a reasonable solution. Hence, "came up with" is the most appropriate answer.

Sol.36.(a) paucity

The word "paucity," means a small amount or scarcity of something. The given sentence states that the scientist's theory was praised for its originality but criticized for the lack of supporting evidence. Hence, "paucity" is the most appropriate answer.

Sol.37.(a) take back

'Take back' means to withdraw something said. The given sentence states that she had to take back her previous statements after new evidence emerged. Hence, 'take back' is the most appropriate answer.

'To' is a fixed preposition used after the verb 'allude'. Hence, 'to' is the most appropriate answer.

Sol.46.(b) turned into

'Turned into' means transformed into something else. The given sentence states that the old factory will be turned into a modern art gallery next year. Hence, 'turned into' is the most appropriate answer.

Sol.47.(b) had heeded

The given sentence is an example of a third conditional sentence and the correct grammatical structure for it is "If + past perfect (had + V_3)..... Would have + V_3 ". Hence, "had heeded" is the most appropriate answer.

Sol.48.(a) masterful

The given sentence requires an adjective to describe the 'brushstrokes'. 'Masterful' is an adjective, which means performed with the skill of a master. Hence, 'masterful' is the most appropriate answer.

Sol.49.(c) whose

'Whose' is a relative adjective denoting a sense of possession or belonging. The given sentence states that the professor, whose reputation for rigorous research was widely known, retired last year. Hence, 'whose' is the most appropriate answer.

Sol.50.(b) Setback

The word "Setback" means an obstacle or delay in progress. The given sentence implies that the committee's decision had a negative impact on the company's expansion plans. Hence, "Setback" is the most appropriate answer.

Sol.51.(d) remains

The true subject of the sentence is 'prevalence' (singular), not 'populations' (plural). The phrase "of infectious diseases among vulnerable populations" is a prepositional phrase. Therefore, the verb must agree with the singular subject 'prevalence'. 'Remains' is the correct singular verb for simple present tense. Hence, 'remains' is the most appropriate answer.

Sol.52.(a) was discovered

The given sentence describes a past event where the scroll was found. Since, 'the scroll' is the object of the action (it didn't discover itself), the passive voice is required. 'Was + V₃' is the correct passive structure for simple past tense. Hence, 'was discovered(V₃)' is the most appropriate answer.

Sol.53.(a) Efficiently

"Efficiently" is the adverb form of "efficient" and means "in a well-organized and productive manner." The given sentence describes how the manager handled the crisis, which requires an adverb to modify the verb "handled." Hence, "efficiently" is the most appropriate answer.

Sol.54.(c) reassurance

'Reassurance' means the act of relieving someone of anxiety. The given sentence states that her calm demeanor in the face of chaos acted as a reassurance for the team members. Hence, 'reassurance' is the most appropriate answer.

Sol.70.(b) were working

The given sentence describes an action that occurred while another action was in progress. The action that was in progress in the past is written in past continuous tense. 'Students' is a plural subject, therefore the plural helping verb 'were' will be used. Hence, 'were working' is the most appropriate answer.

Sol.71.(c) an, the

"An" is used before "event" because it is a singular, countable noun that starts with a vowel sound and refers to any possible occurrence of a system failure. "The" is used before "protocol" because it refers to a specific set of rules already established by the IT department. Hence, "an, the" is the most appropriate answer.

Sol.72.(b) most effective

When comparing one thing with all others, we use the superlative degree of comparison. The sentence uses "of all the remedies suggested" which indicates a comparison among more than two things. "Most effective" is the superlative form of "effective." Hence, "most effective" is the most appropriate answer.

Sol.73.(b) so

"So... that" is a common correlative conjunction structure used to show cause and effect. Hence, "so" is the most appropriate answer.

Sol.74.(a) a, the

For the first blank, 'new dress' is a singular countable noun and is being introduced for the first time, so 'a' is appropriate. For the second blank, 'party next week' refers to a specific party known to the speaker, therefore the article 'the' will be used before it. Hence, 'a, the' is the most appropriate answer.

Sol.75.(b) an

Article 'an' is used before words starting with a vowel sound (an apple, an engineer, an umbrella). Hence, 'an' is the most appropriate answer.

Sol.76.(b) rather

The phrase "rather than" is used to indicate a preference or contrast between two actions or ideas. In the given sentence, it shows a preference for revising everything instead of concentrating on a single topic. Hence, "rather" is the most appropriate answer.

Sol.77.(b) an, an, a

For the first blank, 'ancient' starts with a vowel sound, so 'an' is appropriate. For the second blank, 'invaluable' starts with a vowel sound, so 'an' is also appropriate. For the third blank, 'prehistoric civilization' is being introduced as one example, not a specific or previously mentioned one, so 'a' is correct. Hence, 'an, an, a' is the most appropriate answer.

Sol.78.(d) delivered

'Deliver a speech' is the correct collocation. Hence, 'delivered' is the most appropriate answer.

Sol.79.(b) whose

The blank requires a possessive relative pronoun to link 'ruins' to 'the ancient city', indicating that the ruins belong to the city. 'Whose' is the correct relative pronoun to express possession. Hence, 'whose' is the most appropriate answer.

Sol.80.(a) will have

In this sentence, the future perfect tense is used to indicate that an action will be completed before a specific point in the future. The structure of the future perfect tense is 'will have' + the past participle of the main verb. Here, the verb 'launch' in its past participle form is 'launched.' Hence, 'will have' is the most appropriate answer.

Sol.81.(d) knuckle under

'Knuckle under' means to submit or yield to the demands of someone. The given sentence states that after weeks of resistance, the smaller company had to knuckle under to the demands of the larger corporation. Hence, 'knuckle under' is the most appropriate answer.
